

(Im)materiality

Ana Luísa Amaral expertly uses the world of material objects to transport us to another, more philosophical place. Take a moment to think about an object that is so important to you (or your characters) it transcends the physical.

Prompt: Write a piece using an inanimate, everyday object as the central focal point. Please feel free to respond it in your preferred genre. If you are responding in fiction: is there an everyday item that is of particular importance to your character?

Time: 15 minutes
